WHEREVER A SUNBEAM ALIGHTS IN FLORENCE it ignites the glory of a Renaissance treasure. The famed cathedral and Giotto bell tower, right of center, dominate the heart of the Tuscan capital. The river Arno slides beneath a lattice of bridges that includes the shop-lined 14th-century Ponte Vecchio.

WORKING PAPER

Project: 1029
Date: 901003
Time: 1312-1346
Viewer: 018
Session: 01
Monitor: 025

SUMMARY OF INFORMATION:

1. The general area of the site is a land/structure interface, with water of some kind as a minor part of the site.
2. The entire site has an "old" flavor to it, as though it is a place of historical reenactment, historical tourism, etc. It is, in fact, a very "people-oriented" site, historical, but still in use.
3. There are several impressions of a group of people gathered in an open area, with seemingly nothing else of importance going on around the grouping. There is a structure nearby which is the focus of their activities. In addition to this group of people, there appear to be other, disorganized groups of one or two people wandering and looking, taking pictures, etc.
4. There appears to be a tall, vertical uneven surface, not unlike a cliff or a wall around a city. This vertical surface appears to be around the main portion of the site, or in some way blocking it off from the rest of the surrounding geographical area.
